

TURKOLOGY SOLVED

Over 5,000 replies were received to "Turkology." They fairly deluged The Times-Dispatch office. The response was instant and incessant up to the closing hour.

A great many novel, interesting, neat, artistic and unique replies were received. There were stories and poems, cut outs, calendars, books, plaques, framed designs, artistic water color and black and white interpretations—in fact, the names of the fifty-one advertisers were brought out in ways conceivable only to the trained artist and ad.-writer.

A committee of thoroughly disinterested persons having viewed the correct answers, chose ten

Miss Emily Cunningham Lyman,
The Chesterfield, city.
Mrs. C. E. Harrison,
606 Miller Ave., Barton Heights.
Mrs. W. W. Henry,
615 First Avenue, Highland Park.

Miss Fannie V. Murray,
2100 Hanover Avenue, city.
Mrs. Archie W. Duke,
318 North Twenty-third Street, city.
Mr. Felix A. Bashon,
318 South Cherry Street, city.
Miss M. S. Jones,
712 East Main Street, city.

which showed marked merit over all others, the authors of which will each receive a Thanksgiving Turkey with the compliments of The Times-Dispatch.

It is impossible to name a list of the many who would under other circumstances be placed on an Honor Roll, or of the thousands whose efforts were earnest, but who did not quite get "the idea"; however, The Times-Dispatch desires to thank every participant, and trusts that you'll remember Turkology day, and that the next one will bring a real turkey your way.

A turkey has been awarded to each of the following ten Turkology contestants:

Mrs. Maie Best,
Care Tragle Drug Co., city.
Mrs. B. L. Woodward,
Cor. Second St. Road and Virginia Ave., Highland Park.
Mr. Logan D. Walford,
2418 Floyd Avenue, city.
